

SEND Information Report- Lewknor C of E Primary School

These pages set out information about our provision for children and young people with special educational needs (SEND). They are updated annually.

About our school

Lewknor C of E School provides for children and young people with a wide range of special educational needs including those with:

- Communication and Interaction needs
This includes children who have speech language and communication difficulties including autistic spectrum conditions.
- Cognition and Learning needs
This includes children who have learning difficulties and specific learning difficulties like dyslexia, dyspraxia and dyscalculia.
- Social, Emotional and Mental Health needs
This includes behaviour
- Sensory and/or Physical needs;
This includes children who have visual or hearing needs, or a physical disability that affects their learning

We are a mainstream school with 82 children on roll. Our special educational needs co-ordinator (SENDCo) is Mrs Debbie Cole. She holds the national SENDCo award and Qualified Teacher Status.

She can be contacted at:

Our governor with responsibility for SEND is Libby Jackson. The SEND governor and the SENDCo meet termly to discuss how the year is progressing and any outstanding issues that the governing body can support.

Our SEND policy and our Equal Opportunities and our Accessibility Plan can be found on the school website.

How do we identify and give extra help to children and young people with SEND?

The school uses Oxfordshire County Council's guidance 'Identifying and Supporting Special Educational Needs in Oxfordshire Schools and Settings'.

The guidance sets out:

- How we identify if a child or young person has a special educational need.
- How we assess children and plan for their special educational needs, and how we adapt our teaching.
- Ways in which we can adapt our school environment to meet each child's needs
- How we review progress and agree outcomes and involve you and your child in this.

How do we work with parents and children/young people?

We will always contact parents if we have a concern that a child or young person may have a special educational need. No child will go onto the special needs register without the full consent of parents and indeed we value highly the information parents bring to the process to get a full picture of a child's strengths and weaknesses.

We work closely with children and young people with SEND and their parents to agree outcomes and how we will all work towards these, and then to review progress. We do this by regular meetings, mostly in line with parent evening meetings. Staff are also available at the start and end of the day for parents to ask questions and appointments to see them for longer discussions or to see the SENDCo can be made via the school office.

Children should be aware of and involved in setting and reviewing their targets. Their strengths (both academic and non academic) will be celebrated to increase self esteem.

Adapting the curriculum

We offer a broad and balanced curriculum for all children and young people including those with SEND. The way we adapt this for children with SEN and disabled children is set out in the School Accessibility Plan. You can read it on the school website. Teachers are responsible for differentiating lessons and taking into account the learning styles of all children. Resources generally used in class to support children with SEND may include word banks, writing frames, visual timetables and task boards.

We use intervention programmes including:

- Pre-learning - children have extra support before new concepts are introduced in class.
- Topical Resources - spelling programme.
- Precision monitoring- children are given words that they are struggling to read/write in grids and timed each day to try to improve on the time taken to read/write a given number of words. This usually focuses on high frequency words. The site used is <http://www.johnandgwyn.co.uk/probe.html>
- We run intervention groups for children with comprehension difficulties. This will include materials such as New Reading and Thinking. These are run by both staff and parent helpers.

These all support the development of language and literacy skills for children identified as needing extra support. Teaching assistants or teachers may run intervention groups or catch up sessions for children identified as at risk of falling behind. We choose to run these interventions because they have a positive impact on the child enabling them to feel more confident and to close the attainment gap with their peers. We recognise that what works for one child does not always work for another which is why the impact of all interventions is closely monitored alongside the progress data for each individual child.

What expertise can we offer?

- Our headteacher/SENCo has undertaken the extensive National Award for SENCOs.
- Teaching assistants are trained to support the particular needs of the children they work with.
- Our SEND governor has Qualified Teacher Status (QTS).
- We also have access to a range of specialist support services including: Educational Psychology to support children with both behaviour and learning needs; SENSS, who support children with communication and language, sensory needs and physical needs; Child and Adolescent Mental Health Services (CAMHS), an NHS service to which school can refer; Occupational Therapy services, Speech and Language, Children's Social Care.

Information about these services and what they offer can be found on the Oxfordshire County Council SEN web pages:

<https://www.oxfordshire.gov.uk/cms/public-site/special-educational-needs-and-disability-local-offer>

We always discuss the involvement of specialist SEND services with parents first. They will usually need to sign a consent form for them to be involved with their child.

We also work with other services and organisations that are involved with a family, with the family's permission such as paediatricians or family support workers.

How do we know if SEN provision is effective?

The progress of all children/young people is tracked throughout the school through the use of assessment weeks.

In addition, for children/young people with SEND we regularly review progress towards agreed outcomes assessing whether the support that has been in place has made a difference and what we need to do next. We evaluate this progress against age-related expectations.

When we run special intervention programmes for groups of children we assess how successful they have been and use that information to decide on how best to run them in the future. We do this for through assessments such as the British Picture Vocabulary scale, Salford reading and comprehension test and the NEALE's assessment of reading ability.

How are children and young people with SEN helped to access activities outside of the classroom?

All children are included in activities and trips following risk assessments where needed and in accordance with duties under the Equalities Act 2010. We communicate with parents and children when planning trips so that everyone is clear about what will happen.

There is information about activities and events for disabled children and those with SEND in Oxfordshire in the Family Information Directory:

What do we do to support the wellbeing of children/young people with SEND?

All children have the opportunity to share their views through their school council representatives and in school PSHCE lessons and assemblies. We listen to the views of children with SEND by involving them in the writing of their pupil profiles.

We take bullying very seriously. We help to prevent bullying of children with SEND by discussing incidents with children both in PSHCE lessons and by dealing with incidents very seriously in school.

Joining the school and moving on

We encourage all new children to visit the school before starting. For children with SEND we visit the pre-school settings and discuss their needs with the staff who know them best and parents if necessary.

We begin to prepare pupils for transition into the next stage of their education by liaising with the local schools and talking to their year 7 mentors and pastoral teams so that the transition is as smooth as possible. Vulnerable children are often invited to extra sessions prior to starting their next school.

Who to contact

If you are concerned about your child please see the class teacher in the first instance.

If you would like to feedback, including compliments and complaints about SEND provision please contact the headteacher Debbie Cole. We aim to respond to any complaints within 5 days.

If you would like impartial advice from Oxfordshire's Support Service about Education, Health and Care Plans please contact:

Maxine Jewitt at maxinejewitt@adviza.org.uk or phone 07827947356

Our school has contributed to the county's Local Offer through attendance at a training workshop and through trialling of new guidance and systems.

In summary, the governors and staff at Lewknor recognise that all children have a right to a broad, balanced, relevant and differentiated curriculum. We aim to create a happy, educationally exciting and positive environment in which all pupils can develop to their full potential and become confident, independent individuals. We aim to:

- Celebrate our Christian ethos by acknowledging that each child is unique and a valued part of our school community.
- Ensure that our curriculum is accessible and relevant to all children whatever their individual need.
- Promote positive attitudes and individual confidence, ensuring all children experience success.
