A message from the head teacher...

Dear parents, I hope you all had a lovely weekend and managed to get out into the winter sun on Sunday, spring feels like it's finally on the way!

Thanks to all parents who purchased a book (or five) at the book fair this week, we had some very good customers who just kept on being persuaded back in day after day by their children! On a serious note, it was lovely to see children so enthused about books and the older siblings were lovely in helping their brothers and sisters choose books and find the right money to pay.

We raised £282 pounds for us to spend on books and we have already spent £100 of it on some amazing books for our reading areas, English co-ordinator Miss Cleere had the pleasure of choosing and she has picked some crackers for our children to enjoy!

Next week is reception parents evening on Thursday 13th February with the rest of the school to follow in the week after half term. Reception's is taking place in a different week so Mrs Hopkins can attend both Infants and Reception's meetings.

Attendance was good for last week coming in at an impressive 97% which we have only had twice this academic year. Overall attendance is 95% still but I'm hopeful we'll hit the 96% soon.

Have a great week.

Mr Powell
